A Word from the promoter

17 Lifters took part in this years Midlands Olympics competition which is now in its 21st year. I remember very clearly the very first Midlands Olympics event and it doesn't seem possible that it was 21 whole years ago that the Lord of the Manor of Yoxall put up the De Yoxall Shield, that we still lift for each year. The lifting this year was a joy to watch, and once again, as is IAWA's trade mark it was pleasurable mix of IAWA's International Standard competitors right through to the new lifters, all trying to perform to their best and make their mark.

The competition started a little earlier than advertised, due to the England match and the very hot weather some of the competitors wanted to get away early. We ran two platforms, and starting at 11.30 am we were all done and dusted by 2.30pm – not bad eh? Anyway, thanks to the competitors for attending and helping out with the loading, thanks also to the officials without whom we can have no competition. The lifting was of an excellent standard, and well done to Tom Allsopp for taking the overall best lifter shield, just ahead of Michael Jackson and Paul Doyle, but the last words must go to Peter Ready, who at 84 years young lifted magnificently, a pure inspiration to us all, and finishing as 6th best lifter overall is an amazing feat – Well done Peter, long may you reign.
